PART OF MAIN STREET ACCEPTED BY COUNCIL

Judge Greenleaf Reports It Is Fair For Property Owners To Pay Cost of Approaches

At its meeting Tuesday morning the City Council passed ordinances accepting the asphalt work so far completed on the western part of Main street.

Passage of the ordinances, which had been held up, following protest of building of driveway approaches on Monday morning, went through without a dissenting vote after a statement by Judge J. J. Greenleaf, to whom Judge Shackelford had left investigation and final decision on the fairness of the matter, he brought up. Judge Greenleaf stated that he had investigated the matter and looked into a number of the legal phases as well, although the latter he had not had opportunity to run down to their final analysis. He said that the act of 1916 gave the Council the right to do whatever it thought best with the streets in the matter of improvement. As far as fairness to the property owner is concerned, Judge Greenleaf said that he thinks it right and fair that the property owner who is solely benefited by the building of the driveway approaches should pay the cost thereof. He said that if these approaches complained of had not been built, that a curbing and gutter would have been built, and the property owners would have been forced to build approaches later to secure access to the street; then again, he pointed out, that by narrowing the street, the property owner was saved a considerable sum in the cost of the street improvement, far more than the slight cost of the approaches. It was pointed out that if the streets had not been narrowed the cost to Judge Shackelford alone would have been $335 more than he is required to pay now. As it is, the city pays a third of the cost of the street and a third of the cost of each and every approach. Engineer Creelius said that a wider street is not justified by traffic conditions.

Mayor Evans said that to force the taxpayers of the whole city to pay any one man's approaches and driveway, or all on the paved streets would not be fair to them.

It was also pointed out that it was in the power of the Council to have apportioned the entire cost of the paved streets to the taxpayers instead of the city paying a third.

After a full discussion of the points at issue, the Council passed the street acceptance ordinances by unanimous vote.

The Street Committee was appointed by the Mayor, upon motion, to confer with the L. & N. Railroad in regard to a proposition to extend Orchard street to the freight depot. It was said that the L. & N. had offered to build extension of the street if the city would buy a small lot, now owned by W. W. Broadbush, and which it was said, can be obtained for $250. In order to be sure just what the railroad company will agree to do, the Council put the matter into the hands of the street committee with power to act after investigation. It was shown that nearly everyone who has business at the freight depot will be much benefited by the extension of Orchard street.

Discussion of removal of garbage occupied much time of the councilmen. Councilman O'Neil suggested that the city should substitute a large wagon for the dump cart at present in use. He said that most of the time of the garbage collector is taken up in going to and from the dump with his loads in the cart.

The Mayor and several others thought that a regular schedule ought to be maintained and the people notified. Street Commissioner Allman said that many people want the garbage man to clean up their gardens and carry off all sorts of things such as limbs, as well as the usual run of garbage. It was pointed out that the removal of garbage and other things that become unsightly is a real service.

Mayor Evans called attention to the habit of a number of citizens on West Main street who have been sweeping leaves onto the new paved street. The recent rain washed leaves into two catch basins and flooded the street at several points he said. He said there is an ordinance prohibiting sweeping of trash onto the highways which ought to be enforced. The Street Committee was instructed to study a plan which will give satisfaction and the utmost degree of service to all the people on the garbage question at the last cost to the city.

A special committee composed of Councilmen O'Neil and Mershon was named to investigate the right of the city to sell a 13-foot lot at the corner of East Main and Collins street. Councilman Mershon brought up the matter by saying that Mr. Matherly, business partner of Councilman Golden would buy the lot if the city cared to sell it for $500 and release the buyer from payment of the paved street assessment. Discussion developed the opinion that it was extremely doubtful if anyone would have the right to build on the lot as it is considered a part of the street, and the matter was finally left to the committee above named.

TO WRITE OF "FIRST" THINGS IN KENTUCKY

Causes England To "About Face" On King Constantine

On Sunday, Nov. 28, Col. Jim Maret, the "Boone Way" man, will begin the publication of a series of articles on the early history of Kentucky. The opening chapters will cover "The First Things in Kentucky," of the first white man to enter the state; the sowing of the first turnip seed to the building of a locomotive, highways and cities; briefly told and mostly in paragraphs, giving the names of persons along with the data of their accomplishments.

The Roone Trail, Wilderness Road, Dixie and Boone Highways will receive special attention.

It was admitted in the highest quarters that only most serious information from Greece caused "about face" by Lloyd George. The British were convinced that Constantine was barred by the Allies the result would be civil war, compelling the return of Greek forces to Turkey and also making Greece vulnerable from the Bulgarian side, while Bulgaria is waiting watchfully for the chance to touch off a spark in a new Balkan conflict, which likely would result in a redivision of the spoils and give a seaport to Bulgaria.

Such a conflict, Great Britain fears, might drag the remainder of Europe into a new war with a new alignment of powers at the very moment when it is most necessary for Europe to maintain its strength to face a probable invasion from Russia in the spring.

Percy Haughton Wants To Change Football Rules

Boston, Nov. 23—A suggestion for curbing the forward pass, to prevent development of present-day football into a game more nearly resembling basketball, has been advanced by Percy Haughton, founder of Harvard's gridiron coaching system.

"Instead of having an incomplete forward pass revert to the team which started the play, make a forward passed blocked the throwers' line of scrimmage subject to recovery by opponents under the same conditions as a blocked kick," is Haughton's idea. At present a pass which has been batted down, but not caught by an opponent, merely costs the throwing team a down.

Close Call In Fire In Bourbon County Sunday

Paris, Ky., Nov. 23—Boone Williams, his wife and three children, residing on the North Middletown pike, had a narrow escape from death Sunday afternoon when their home was destroyed by fire. The family was eating dinner when a passerby discovered the house in flames.

The family escaped a few moments before the roof fell in. All of their household goods were destroyed and the fire spreading to the outside buildings destroyed several pure bred hogs, a large hay stack, and farming implements.

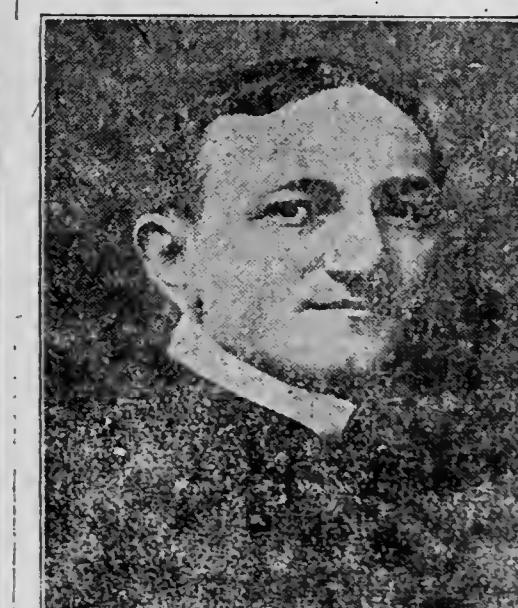

A large oak tree, estimated to be at least 100 years old, caught fire and was burned. As it fell it destroyed a number of panels of fencing. The house was a two-story frame structure. The loss is about $4,000.

KENTUCKY LOSES LEAD AS HEMP PRODUCER

Kentucky until recent years the leading state in the production of hemp, now stands lowest among the recognized hemp growing states, the Department of Agriculture announced today. The Northern states now are leading in hemp production, Wisconsin supplying about half of the present total acreage. Next comes Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and California.

Kentucky's decline is attributed by agricultural experts to the predominance of tobacco as a commercial crop, and also to the fact that states coming newly into the hemp raising industry have adopted modern methods for large scale production.

Hemp and flax are the principal fiber crops of the United States. Of the former, 14,000 acres were grown this year, with an average yield of 700 pounds to the acre, divided about evenly between long fiber worth an average of 20 cents a pound, and tow, which now averages 10 cents a pound. This would bring an average value of the crop to $105 an acre, a total value of $1,470,000.

Flax acreage has increased from 5,000 acres in 1919 to 6,000 acres in 1920. The yield is estimated at from 300 to 400 pounds per acre, worth 75 cents a pound. The total value of the flax crop is about $1,600,000.

Much experimenting has been done with a view of utilizing hurds, or the woody center, which makes up half of the hemp stalk. One Ohio firm used several thousand tons for paper manufacture, but this use will need development in the way of shipping facilities and definite market, the department says.

RELICS OF EGYPT AND BABYLONIA

Brought To Chicago University (Tell Story of Semicharib's Defeat At Jerusalem)

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Nov. 23.—Fresh from the Near East, 37 boxes of relics of ancient Egypt and Babylonia are now being unpacked at the University of Chicago. They were brought recently after an adventure some trip by Dr. J. H. Breasted, professor of Oriental History and Egyptology. In the judgment of museum officials here, they make the Oriental museum at the University of Chicago the finest of its kind in the United States. The university professor and his staff of four were the first white men to cross the Arab state after it was proclaimed, going from Bagdad to Aleppo. At times the expedition travelled at great personal risk.

The traditional friendship of the Arabs for the English has now turned to hatred. Dr. Breasted reported. This, he said, was due to the British giving over Syria to the French after they had promised the Arabs their own kingdom in recompense for the help they gave the British against the Turks.

British political agents were being murdered in Mesopotamia while the University of Chicago expedition was in the country, Dr.
Breasted said. He related that a British colonel who knew the Arabs intimately was later killed at the identical camping place the University party had stopped at a short time before.

"The English in Mesopotamia is however, the greatest blessing that ever came to the country," Dr. Breasted said. "It is accomplishing wonders in quieting the turbulent Arabs and in bringing in civilized conditions. Any one who knows the Near East cannot fail to rejoice at the British occupation, and most of all the archaeologist."

Notwithstanding this hostility to the British, the party determined to push on without protection across the deserts to the Mediterranean. They fortunately found the Arabs friendly to Americans.

One of the prizes brought back to the Chicago Oriental museum is an Assyrian prism chronicling the destruction of Semicharib's army before Jerusalem. This great Assyrian king had carried a host against Jerusalem and sorely troubled Hezekiah, king of Judah.
It is related in the Book of Isaiah that Hezekiah sent to the prophet Isaiah, that Isaiah prophesied that Semicharib would not enter Jerusalem but would return to Assyria by the way that he came, and that the Assyrian's army suffered a great destruction.

"This is a six-sided prism containing the royal annals of Semicharib," Dr. Breasted said. "It relates the chief campaigns of his western wars and chronicles this incident told in Isaiah. There is a similar prism in the British museum, but ours is three years older and it is the first in the United States."

A flint knife blade with a sharp edge, which Dr. Breasted characterized as the finest piece of chipped stone known to man, is another of the prizes of the collection.
Still another is a small blue vase from Egypt, where glass was first used, which the professor showed the first artistic use made of glass.

A picture of early Egyptian home life is afforded by a group of 25 figures found in an Egyptian tomb. Servants making bread, washing, making music on a drum and doing other familiar things about the house 4,000 or 5,000 years ago, go to make up the most complete group of the kind, it is said, that has ever been uncovered in one tomb.

On the badge of every member of the Junior Red Cross are the words "I Serve." That tells the story of the school children's branch of the American Red Cross and its efforts to bring happiness to children throughout the world.

Realizing that the time never was so propitious as right now for teaching the highest ideals of citizenship, the entire present program of the Junior Red Cross has been framed under the very inclusive phrase, "Training for Citizenship Through Service" for others. Since the Junior Red Cross is the agency through which the American Red Cross reaches the schoolboys and the schoolgirls, all its activities are designed to come within the regular school program, and without creating new courses or increasing the number of studies to lend its vitalizing the work of the schools.

"The thing that is needed," says Dr.
Livingston Farrand, Chairman of the American Red Cross Central Committee,
"is not a perpetuation of the Junior Red Cross, but the training and breeding of sound American citizenship inspired by the true, fundamental ideals of sound democracy. One of the great conceptions in making the Red Cross a contributor to better citizenship in our American democracy is the realization that after all the sole hope of any nation is with the children of the country."

The plan of organization of the Junior Red Cross makes the school—public, parochial and private—the unit, not the individual pupils. Mutual service, helpful community work such as clean-up campaigns, care of the sick, promotion of health regulations, participation in civic and patriotic movements—all these creative agencies designed to translate into life and action the regular school program are parts of the machinery which the Junior Red Cross places at the disposal of the school authorities.

Graded study courses giving practical methods of civic training, supplemented by pamphlets and helpful suggestions, are supplied to the local schools by the Junior Red Cross. An elaborate plan for promoting an interchange of correspondence between children in different sections of the United States as well as with children in foreign lands is being devised and will take a prominent place in the established classroom program.

In promoting the general cause of child welfare, Red Cross courses in home hygiene and care of the sick, first aid, and dieting may be established in all Junior Red Cross Ausculties.

The ideals and the objective of the Junior Red Cross are embodied in the pledge of service which the pupil takes when he signs the membership roll and pins on his coat the Junior's badge.
The pledge which binds together service and citizenship reads:

"We will seek in all ways to live up to the ideals of the Junior Red Cross and devote ourselves to its service."

"We will strive never to bring discredit to this, our country, by any unworthy act."

"We will reverence and obey our country's laws and do our best to inspire all like reverence and obedience. In those ways, as good citizens, to transmit America greater, better and more beautiful than she was transmitted to us."

At the foundation of this school program of the Junior Red Cross is a great love for America's children.

RED CROSS ACTIVE IN DISASTER RELIEF

When disaster hits a community—fire, flood, earthquake, explosion, bad wreck, or tornado—the American Red Cross can be depended upon to follow right at its heels with help for the stricken people. Red Cross relief is almost immediately forthcoming—food, clothing, shelter and funds; doctors, nurses and special workers with long experience in handling similar trouble elsewhere.

During the last year, ending June 30, there was an average of four disasters a month in the United States. One hundred and fifty communities in twenty-seven states suffered. The largest and most destructive of these were the tidal wave at Corpus Christi, Texas, and tornadoes in Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

In these events of horror, 850 persons were killed, 500 were injured, 15,000 were made homeless, about 30, 000 families needed help, the property loss was nearly $100,000,000 and almost $1,000,000 in relief funds, not including emergency supplies was expended.

To the sufferers from all disasters during the year, the American Red Cross sent $120,000 worth of supplies, 140 Red Cross nurses and seven special relief trains. To meet the needs of the stricken, the organization set up ten relief stations, operated thirty food kitchens and set up many emergency hospitals. One hundred and twenty-five Red Cross chapters have disaster relief service.

If disaster ever strikes this town or county, the citizens can be absolutely sure the Red Cross will be right hand to help them in every way.

Shorty drops in on New York!

New York
Wednesday night

HERE WE ARE, PETE!

Camped once more in the plumb centre of our old stamping grounds—rubbing elbows with the roaring racket and running flush into more electric displays, blazing posters and smashing signs that sound the joys of Camel Cigarettes than you'd ever believe could be jammed into one town!

When I hit Broadway this p. m. I'd said the Reynolds folks had transplanted "Camel City" right up here!

It seems like all New Yorkers have adopted Camels as their own personal brand! And, Pete, since this is the original speed town, it's only what you expect when you see 'em carry a package of Camels in each coat pocket. If their right hand is busy, they dig out their left hand deck—they just won't lose time getting a Camel lighted!
That's the gait around here, old thorough!

And, Peter, the New Yorker has his own A-1 pet reason why he's so keen for Camels. For instance, Doc Marshall will bet his car on Camels—quality against any cigarette in the world! Bill James says to me—"Shorty, there never was mild, mellow body like Camel." And, as for Dan Boggs—he spills it that Camels are the only cigarette free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or cigarette odor! And, he knows! Frank Frazee will mestic blend! And all of them are right!

And, Pete, old proof-of-the-pudding—you tell

New York when it comes to that "show me" stuff, on cigarettes or anything else!

Our Contest for Xmas Holidays

The contest will be open to every woman and child in Madison county. Every one has an equal chance to win the prizes. It costs you nothing to enter the contest.

The idea in putting on this contest is to create business for the Christmas trade. Each contestant will receive credit for the amount of business they send to our store from November 15th to December 24th.

First come to our store at your earliest convenience and register your name as a contestant. Second, go into the contest with a determination of winning the best prizes. Third, make a thorough canvass among your friends and ask them to make their purchases at Muncy Brothers store, and give the salesman from whom they buy their articles the ticket with your name to be deposited in the ballot box, marking the amount of sale on the ticket.

To the one sending the largest amount of business will be given the first prize. To the one sending the next largest amount of business will be given the second prize, and to the third winner the prize will be given for the largest number of customers sent to the store during the contest.

WATSON PREDICTS WAR WITH JAPAN

Hot Springs, Ark., Nov. 23.—Declaring the Japanese to be a "selfish, grasping nation," and stating that "what Japan gets her hands on she never lets go of," United States Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, in an interview here today, predicted that Japan will attack the United States. War between the two nations he said, is only a question of time.

"The Pacific Ocean has been made a Japanese lake," said Senator Watson, and the Philippines and the little Island of Guam, both American possessions, are at the mercy of a country, whose people consider themselves far more clever than the people of other countries. When Japan engages in the inevitable conflict with the United States those islands will have no more protection than a thistle in a storm. Japan is a member of the League of Nations, but that crafty, cunning nation some day will attack the United States. The League of Nations never will prevent a war. It is functioning now, and there are seven wars in progress.

"The only way to seek a preventive for war is to civilize the people of the world, and the only way to civilize the people is to christianize them."

At last! Mars has spoken!

YOUNG HIRAM Jinks.
HAD TRIED for weeks.
TO TALK to Mars.
BY WIRELESS.
HE'D POUNDED his key.
CALLING "MARS. Hello, Mars."
UNTIL HIS right biceps.
WAS THE village pride.
HE HARDLY dared to sleep.
LEST HE miss the call.
AND SAY! One evening.
HE GOT an answering buzz.
"YEP, THIS is Mars."
AND HIRAM shook all over.
AND STUTTERED back in Morse.
"HAVE YOU any word.
FOR US on Earth?"
QUICK CAME the answer.
"YOU CAN tell the world.
THEY SATISFY!" Then silence.
HIRAM RAN to the corner store.
AND SHOUTED in triumph.
"A MESSAGE from Mars!
YOU CAN tell the world.
THEY SATISFY!"
BUT THE village elders.
MERELY SNORTED "Shucks.
KNOWN THAT for years."
WHILE OUT in the army camp.
THE RADIO man.
WHO'D BEEN Riddling Hiram.
THREW AWAY his butt.
AND LAUGHED himself to sleep.

B-U-Z-Z-Z. Listen to this one! Chesterfields "satisfy," and yet they're mild. With body enough to "satisfy" even a cigar smoker, Chesterfields are mild enough to suit even the most finicky cigarette smoker. That's some combination! — and this unique blend can't be copied.

CHICAGO GAMBLERS

RAIDED BY POLICE

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Almost 1,000 arrests were made, and gambling paraphernalia valued at thousands of dollars were seized in a crime drive in Chicago.

The drive was started at midnight and continued until tonight. Charles Fitzmorris, chief of police and Michael Hughes, chief of detectives, personally directed operations.

The prisoners, for the most part were gamblers, but scores of men and boys carrying arms were gathered in. Many had burglar tools. The drive brought in numerous drug sellers and bootleggers.

Raids were centered on notorious gambling dens. How it was carried on is illustrated by the raid on "Artie Quinn's smoke shop." The place was swarming with gamblers and the tables were loaded with gold and silver.

Automobiles loaded with detectives and police dashed to the curb, and officers smashed thru the doors and into the heart of the dive. Gamblers who attempted to "rush" the police and escape were clubbed.

When the place was "mopped up" ten loads of prisoners were hauled away. Gold, silver and currency taken from the gambling tables totaled more than $12,000.

Another sensational raid was that on the establishment of "Nick, the Greek" Dandalos.

Scores were arrested but only a small sum of money was found. Dandalos was searched. He had $340,000 that he had scooped from the tables hidden inside his shirt.

"There was $1,000,000 being gambled in the places we raided," said Chief of Detectives Hughes. "Where did it come from? It came from the stick-ups, the jewelry robberies and the pay-roll robberies. Saturday night found these crooks in the gambling dens losing it all. It's gambling that lures them. The rob and kill just to have something to shoot craps and play faro with. If they can't gamble they won't rob."

MOTHER GAVE IT

Virginia Lady Suffered With Aches and Pains Until Mother Began Giving Her Cardui.

Dublin, Va.—Miss Mary Alice Huggett, residing on Route 2, near here, recently told a visitor of her interesting experience with Cardui. Miss Huggett said: "I had been suffering for some time with painful... I was pale, didn't feel like going. Would just drag around, and couldn't rest to do any good. I would suffer once a month with my back, sides and head. My limbs would ache, and I didn't know what to do, but I knew I must do something, for I didn't get any relief by letting it run on."

"My mother is a believer in Cardui, for she saw what it did for others as well as herself, so she began giving it to me."

"It wasn't long before I saw a change. It was just what I needed. It regulated me. I began to eat and sleep, and the pain stopped."

"Cardui is without doubt the best female tonic made, and I am glad I can recommend it to others."

If suffering with symptoms such as Miss Huggett mentions, or other ailments peculiar to women, why not begin Cardui at once? Its merit is well established by successful use for more than 40 years.

Try Cardui! Your doctor sells it. NC-188
